

SUE PRIMEAU

Sue refers to her work as abstract reality. She is passionate about the world in which we live and the beauty that surrounds our everyday life. It is this readily available subject where she finds her inspiration. Being that she works primarily in watercolor, a medium she prefers not to control, she often begins by letting the shapes and colors occur spontaneously with little or no guidance. Sue then studies the resulting image to determine how she will develop the painting.

Sue's originals, giclées, and prints sell largely by word of mouth and she's been commissioned for a number of private paintings. Sue exhibits at various juried and non-juried art shows where she has received numerous awards and honors. She's been licensed on greeting cards and a number of her works and some lessons are published in how-to watercolor books by internationally known artist Karlyn Holman.

Aside from painting Sue loves to teach watercolor and takes great joy in helping others realize their innate artistic and creative talents. The questions and challenges of her students drive Sue to explore her own work from many different perspectives.
